Hi Faulen,

Three RevFactor articles are ready for your review. Everything opens in a browser, and there is nothing to install or set up.

These are staging links, which means the pages are not public yet and nothing you click can affect the live site. Nothing ships until you sign off, so take the time you need. Early next week keeps us on schedule.

The three pages

Click each button to open the page. The full address is printed underneath in case you need it.

PAGE 1 • THE BIG ONE

Best Airbnb & STR Revenue Management Companies and Tools (2026)

revfactor-kavbbhe4w-federico-zimmermans-projects.vercel.app/blog/best-str-revenue-management-companies-2026/

This is our most important page and it is a rebuild of one we already had. Two older articles were combined into this single one, so the place to look hardest is where they join. That is where a combined article usually starts to repeat itself or contradict itself.

The article ranks six companies. Three of them do the work for you, and three are software you run yourself. Further down there is a separate section for companies that show up when people search for this but that do not actually do revenue management.

Keeping those two groups clearly separate is the whole point of the article. If anywhere in the writing it gets blurry which group a company belongs to, please flag it.

Best Airbnb Property Managers With Dynamic Pricing (2026)

revfactor-kavbbhe4w-federico-zimmermans-projects.vercel.app/blog/best-airbnb-property-managers-with-dynamic-pricing-2026/

Blackbird Hospitality is now listed at number one on this page. Blackbird is Fede's own company. The page says so openly and scores it against the same criteria as every other company on the list.

Please read that disclosure the way a stranger would, and tell us honestly whether it reads as upfront or as something we are slipping past people. It is a judgement call, and we would rather have yours than ours.

Is a Pricing Tool Enough? How to Choose an Airbnb Revenue Management Solution

revfactor-git-content-best-a-1b2275-federico-zimmermans-projects.vercel.app/blog/is-a-pricing-tool-enough-airbnb-revenue-management/

A new article for people trying to work out whether they need an actual person or just software.

This page links across to page 1, and that one link will not work yet. That is expected, not a bug. It starts working once both pages go live, so no need to report it.

What we would like you to check

No technical knowledge needed. All of this is reading the pages the way a customer would.

- ☐ Is anything factually wrong? Especially a company name, a price, or a claim about what a company actually does.
- ☐ Does it read like a person wrote it? Flag anything stiff, repetitive or robotic.
- ☐ Do the source links work, and do they say what we claim they say? Click a fair few. A link that opens is not the same as a link that backs up the sentence it is attached to.
- ☐ Does it look as good as our best articles? Charts, images and tables should be spread throughout, not a wall of text.
- ☐ No names, anywhere. Never a client, owner or property name. Results are described by market and property type only, for example "a Gatlinburg cabin".

- ☐ Anything that makes you wince. If a claim feels too strong or a comparison feels unfair, say so, even if you cannot say exactly why.

One task that specifically needs you

This one genuinely needs a human with a browser, which is why it is yours rather than ours.

Five review scores appear on page 1 inside a box meant to build trust. Each needs someone to open the review site and confirm it, because we will not publish a number we have not seen with our own eyes.

COMPANY	WHAT WE CURRENTLY CLAIM	WHERE TO CHECK
PriceLabs	4.9 out of 5, from 250 reviews	Capterra
Wheelhouse	4.8 from 162 reviews	Capterra
Wheelhouse	4.9 from 88 reviews	G2
Beyond	4.7 from 150 reviews	G2
AirDNA	4.0 from 942 reviews	Trustpilot

Just tell us the number you see and the date you checked.

If a review count does not match, do not worry about it. We will simply drop the counts and keep the scores. A wrong number in a trust box costs us far more than not having the number at all.

How to send it back

Whatever is easiest for you.

A list in a message, comments in a document, or screenshots all work equally well. The page name and a quick description of what is wrong is plenty. I will turn fixes around the same day.

Thanks for taking this on.
